She worked hard for the things she had and was very honored by her accomplishments in her lifetime. She had a love for animals, and we are sure she is surrounded by them while enjoying a craft and some classic rock in her new forever home. May she enjoy her new journey in her final resting place.

“ May you forever be in the arms of your daddy and the light of Dan's life. The world is less brighter with you here. Yet we have gained a forever guardian angel. You will forever be the strongest woman I have ever known. I love you for ever and always.
